Ltd. (“Safepots”). You may print the foregoing documents using the print function in your browser. You understand and agree that by installing, accessing, or using the software, products, services, applications and associated documentation and Enhancements (collectively, the “Safepots Products”), you will be bound by these Terms. If you agree to these Terms on behalf of a business or organization, you represent and warrant that you have the authority to bind that business or organization to these Terms and your agreement to these Terms will be treated as the agreement of the business or organization. In that event, “you” and “your” will refer to and apply to the user of the Safepots Products or that business or organization, as required by the context. If you do not agree with these Terms, Safepots is not willing to license to you and you may not use the Safepots Products.

Your License

The Safepots Products are licensed and not sold to you. During the term of your subscription, Safepots grants to you a revocable, limited, non-transferable, non-exclusive license to use Safepots Products, solely in connection with the backup of your data. Except for the limited license granted in these Agreement, Safepots and its licensors retain all right, title and interest in and to the Safepots Products, all copies thereof, and all proprietary rights therein, including copyrights, patent, trademark and trade secret rights. You may not copy or distribute Safepots Products, except to the extent that copying is necessary to use Safepots Products for the purposes set forth herein. You may not remove any proprietary notices (e.g., copyright and trademark notices) from Safepots Products. You must reproduce the copyright and all other proprietary notices displayed on Safepots Products and on each permitted backup or archival copy. You shall be solely responsible for ensuring that your use of Safepots Products is in compliance with all applicable foreign, federal, state and local laws, rules and regulations.

How It Works

Safepots Products save a copy of each file that is automatically selected for backup and other files you designate for backup (your “Backed-up Data”) to a server operated by Amazon. Safepots Products automatically scan for changes or additions to the Backed-up Data and then periodically re-save a copy or a part of a modified file or create a copy of a newly designated file. For a complete list of the files Safepots is backing-up for you, please refer to the Safepots web console. You can check whether Safepots is backing-up specific files by going to Safepots Timeline located in your Computer, Web console, or from your mobile. If you are unable to locate your file, Safepots is not backing-up that file. Your Backed-up Data may not be available or restorable if: (i) Safepots has not completed copying your selected files or changed files; (ii) for files, folders, or disk drives that are not automatically backed-up, you do not manually select them for backup, or you unselect a file for backup; (iii) you delete a person from your Safepots account; (iv) you move a file to a location on your computer that is not automatically scanned to select files for backup or you upgrade your operating system resulting in changes to your file mapping; (v) your computer is unable to access the internet or to Amazon s3 Storage; (vi) you fail to follow Safepots’s technical requirements, including upgrading the version of your Safepots Products as required; or (vii) you terminate your license or fail to renew your subscription to Safepots Products. Safepots will use reasonable efforts to provide notice of material changes to the Safepots Products or changes to these Terms by posting them to Product Agreement.
